About Craig Kercho

My working theme is the “Wonders of Our Natural World.” We are never too old to experience that wonder. The natural landscape enriches our lives and helps us connect more meaningfully with our world. My objective as a photo-artist is to capture glimpses of nature that demonstrates that richness and also evokes positive emotions and energy.

My passion for photography and graphic arts began at a young age and has remained an important part of my life for the last half century. A love of the outdoors makes landscapes images a great choice. Raw beauty of our forests and seashores are frequent subjects. Seeking out the added dimension of color, texture and physical form help to complete a beautiful image. Selected images run the gamut from landscape panoramas to micro photography of a single flower or butterfly.
